YOUNG WOMEN CHECK PASSERS HELD TO ANSWER

After Hearing Before Daly City Justice Girls Are Bound Over To Superior Court

The three young women, returned here from Oakland, last week, charged with passing spurious checks at a Colma cafe were arraigned, Wednesday afternoon of this week, in the justice court of Judge Wade H. Clay in Daly City.

The three girls—June Clark (alias Marian Hanson), Carolyn La Sansome and Bertha La Fournaisa appeared for preliminary hearing on the charge.

Evidence at the hearing disclosed that Miss Clark cashed a check for $31.50, purportedly signed by one F. L. Davis. This person was, by stipulation of attorneys in the case, admitted to be fictitious. This check was made out to and endorsed with the name of Marian Hanson.

The same amount, under like circumstances, was said to have been received by Miss Sansome.

The other girl, Miss La Fournaisa, was alleged to have issued and cashed a check in the sum of $31.50, drawn on the Colma branch of the Bank of America. It was later found that this defendant had no funds or credit at the bank to cover the check.

After hearing evidence, Judge Clay held all three defendants for trial in Superior Court.

DISSERTATION ON LINCOLN HEARD BY HI STUDENTS

Speaker Lived For Time Near Martyred President's Birthplace In Kentucky

In celebration of Lincoln's birthday Dr. Louis A. Warren, director of the Lincoln National Foundation at Fort Wayne, Ind., gave an address on Lincoln to the Jefferson Union High School students, yesterday.

For several years the speaker lived in Kentucky, part of the time near Lincoln's birthplace, where he edited a newspaper, became contributor to leading historical magazines and gathered source material for his first book, entitled "Lincoln's Parentage and Childhood."

Now residing in Indiana, Dr. Louis has made a special study of the fourteen formative years Lincoln spent in that state. Besides this, he is the founder and editor of Lincoln Lore, a publication containing Lincoln information.

As director of the Lincoln Foundation, he has gathered what is said to be the largest collection of literature ever assembled about one man, biblical characters excepted. His books and pamphlets of Lincoln number over 4,000 volumes. The foundation is known as the center of Lincoln information in America.

The students of Jefferson were privileged to have a man with such an admirable record appear before them and speak on the subject with which he is so thoroughly familiar.

Accident Injuries Fatal To Johnston

John Edward Johnston, 34, of 1367 Twentieth avenue, San Francisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Johnston of Mission street, Daly City, died in the San Jose Hospital, Tuesday of this week, from injuries sustained in an automobile collision in that city on Monday of this week.

Johnston, a lumber salesman, was thought to have been returning from Santa Maria and other small towns in the south. He was about to place his car in a garage when he was struck by a heavy farm truck. He sustained a badly crushed chest, punctured lungs and fatal head injuries. The accident occurred Monday evening of this week.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a widow, Josephine Johnston, a small son, two sisters, Margaret Pettigrew and Grace Bacigalupi, and a brother, David M. Johnston.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday morning, with interment at Holy Cross.

ACCIDENTS DUE TO THE LACK OF COURTESY

It is queer how some people lead double lives. They can go about their every-day business and be just as nice and polite as anybody, but put them behind the steering wheel of a car and watch the change!

It pays to be courteous while you are driving, the National Safety Council says. It is not only the polite thing to do, but it is the common sense thing to do, for it will keep you out of accidents. When you meet another driver at an intersection, don't insist on the right of way. If he knows you have it, that's fine—but if he is in a controversial mood, don't argue! An accident may result. Give the pedestrian a break. Even if he is in the wrong, slow down and let him cross safely. Courtesy pays on the streets and highways.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

PRESS-MEN MEET IN SAN MATEO FOR BUSINESS

County Executive Attends Session And Promises Co-Operation With Association Members

County Executive Ernest A. Rollison at a dinner-meeting of the San Mateo County Press Association, Monday evening of this week, pledged co-operation with a campaign to "keep county printing at home."

In his remarks to the members at the meeting, Rollison said:

"County printing is a difficult situation. Some shops are not bonafide. They are operated in the basements of homes, at night, by owners who pursue other occupations by day. These operators attempt to bid for county business.

"Through this association we hope to obtain a list of legitimate shops which will enable us to make a fair distribution of the business."

Outlining the county purchasing procedure, the executive told of recent improvements, opening up county business to competitive bidding which benefits the merchant and the taxpayer alike.

"Ninety per cent of my business is satisfying people," Rollison declared. "The most trying proposition in my office is the purchasing."

A business session of the association followed.

The Times was host to members. In attendance were President and Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Brubaker and Geoffrey A. Curran of the Times; George McQueen and Editor Fred Glover, Burlingame Advance; Sam Winkelbleck, Redwood City Tribune; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Thompson, Menlo Park Recorder; Mrs. Aileen Bramble and Mr. and Mrs. Logan Franklin, South San Francisco Enterprise; George E. Dunn Sr., Half Moon Bay Review; J. C. Chastain, Belmont Courier; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McCue, Redwood City Standard; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lafferty, San Carlos Enquirer; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pitschke, Daly City Record.

The next meeting will be held at Burlingame.

Driver Flees After Striking Other Car

Although Tripp's car was spun around by the force of the crash, he escaped injury.

Newest Cruiser Joins U.S. Fleet Pacific Maneuvers

This new 10,000 cruiser, U. S. S. Vincennes, is shown in Los Angeles harbor as she prepared to sail for maneuvers off the coast of Southern California with the Pacific Fleet. The Vincennes, recently accepted by the Navy, is one of the most powerful ships of its type in the world and was built under naval limitation treaties. According to observers, battlecraft of this type can prove more disastrous to an enemy than huge 35,000 ton battleships.

Crash Sends Drivers Of Both Cars To Hospital After Collision

A spectacular two car crash on El Camino Real at San Bruno, early Sunday of this week, caused serious injury to two men and painful cuts and bruises to four other motorists.

I. E. Snider, San Francisco, driver of one car, was treated at a South San Francisco hospital for a deep scalp laceration and numerous contusions about the body. Snider's companion, Richard Hayes, wandered away from the scene of the accident and was later picked up in a dazed condition. He was suffering with a fractured shoulder and severe head lacerations. He was treated at the Community Hospital.

The four occupants of the other car were cut and bruised. Police said Snider's car was in the center of the highway, apparently attempting to make a turn when the accident occurred.

HAVOC CAUSED BY WINDSTORM ON PENINSULA

Daly City Visited By Hurricane—Trees Fall, Roofs Blown Off And Wires Torn From Poles

The 78 mile gale, which did a great deal of damage in all parts of San Mateo County, Wednesday of this week, boasted its loudest in Daly City at about 12:30 p.m. The tops were blown from our city reservoirs and the transformers near the water storage were badly affected by the gale. The motor on the best well was thrown out of commission and will not be in running order until Saturday. The wells remaining in working condition are pumping water night and day. We now have 3,000,000 gallons of water in reserve and men are busily engaged on the hill clearing the water of all wood and timbers.

A. J. Bodien, superintendent of the water department, urges all parents to keep their children away from the reservoirs, as it may be several days before repair work is complete and it not only is dangerous to the lives of youngsters but the purity of the water would be impaired by any foreign matter that a child might throw into its crystal depth. The locality of the reservoirs spells DANGER, so keep out.

Bodien estimates reparation in money due and payable by Mr. Wind will mount into figures possibly as high as $5000. The city council met in special caucus last evening to decide ways and means of temporarily covering the two reservoirs until permanent roofs can be built.

The fire alarm system was impaired for the time being and sounded two false alarms. Wires were blown down, here and there emitting fireworks as they fell. Firemen were

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

It requires a good, staunch pioneer soul to sit tight and endure this long spell of torrential rains without complaint. Most of our local residents have done just that, more power to them! There is, however, considerable talk of going to the city and remaining there until late spring. It may be just all talk at that. Semi-residents in Pedro, those who spend weekends in their cabins, are seen even more infrequently. They dash down on Sundays, when the skies are clear for an hour or so, to see if their summer outposts have stood the storms without becoming loosened from their foundations and sliding downhill to the road. Thus far, every cabin appears to have survived the onslaught of water and wind. But most of them present a deplorably bedraggled aspect, which a few days of warm sunshine later on will probably improve. Grande avenue continues hazardous for cars, which slither and slide and bump on the slippery, corduroy effect that we call a road. This, too, requires the brave pioneer spirit of covered wagon days, and we marvel anew at the courage that surmounted the rough prairie and mountain trails they knew in plodding across the continent to the west coast.

Dr. and Mrs. Le Fevre occupied their summer home over the week end. The Doctor's fine new motorboat has been considerably tossed about during the recent storms. We hope it did not suffer any damage.

A local roadhouse nearing completion, is having its bar built by a well known local carpenter, whose work in the construction of another local bar has brought him much commendation for its beauty and artistic work.

Mr. and Mrs. Collette, it is reported, have recently sold their handsome home at Pedro. They have lived in San Francisco for some time past, while engineer, Purser, and his attractive wife rented the place. Now the Purser family have moved up to Reading where a new road is in the process of being constructed. This young couple made many good friends while the No. 1 highway was being put through, and they will be missed in local circles.

Harry Rees had his horses shod one day last week. It took more than a half day to shoe the lot of them. One observer reflected that a watering on each hoof might have its advantages, with the local meadows accumulating more and more rain each downpour.

Fishing is still laid away on the shelf, due to the rough sea, and there are loud lamentations among the hosts of fishermen visitors to our beaches on this account. Never mind! There are still myriads of good fish waiting to be caught when the rain stops. And we comfort ourselves by remembering that, after all, this is the rain storm in history that has not cleared up!

Miss Julia Mignacco, proprietor of the White House Cafe in Rockaway, is known hereabout, as an independent person in the management of her business. She is fixing her place and improving the interior with new, artistic drapes, new furniture and more convenient tables for her patrons. Report declares that Miss Mignacco has excellent ideas in the promotion of her cafe as one of the outstanding places in this district. We wish her every success. (See Miss Mignacco's advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune.) It is said that, several years ago, when one of the most famous restaurants in San Francisco, was being organized, Miss Mignacco was urged to be a partner of the clever woman who was starting the place. But she refused, and, coming down to Rockaway herself, took over the White House Cafe, which she has successfully run ever since.

Mrs. Mary Blume, Pedro Valley postmaster, declares that this locality has one of the most powerful echoes anywhere to be found, making sounds carry a long distance. We can't help wishing that, in addition to its many good points, there were an escalator available for climbing the steep hills! How much more desirable than a mere echo!

Grace Danmann's application for a liquor license (see advertisement) is arousing local interest. Mrs. Danmann has many well-wishers in the community.

Gretchen, the Garners' big dog, had to make a trip to the doctor last week, due to an injury to her leg from getting through a barbed-wire fence in a hurry.

That promised news of the Rockaway school is still on the missing list. If Principal Wallace will kindly leave the news item with Mrs. Bicknell, or give it to one of the Pedro school children, we shall be glad to give it space here. The Rockaway public school is favorably known for its modern methods of teaching. We are always interested in any news of its activities.

Jim Stuart's partner, Andy Anderson's small boat broke loose and fled away a mile to sea. He had to be rescued by coast guards hastily summoned. The big boat drifted to Rockaway and was brought back with the other boat.

New Geyser Discovered Near L. A. Camp

Spouting into activity recently, a 90 foot geyser of hot water and steam was discovered by Tom Harrison, manager of the Los Angeles municipal camp in the high Sierra. Harrison was making his winter inspection of the camp when he discovered the new geyser. The ground through which the hot water was spouting was covered with a deep carpet of snow.

EXCHANGE CLUBS DISTRICT MEET

Harris Rowe, president of the California Exchange Clubs, of Salinas, and A. Brooks Berlin, vice president of the organization of San Francisco, were special guest speakers at the first district meeting of the year, of the Exchange Club of the Peninsula, held at Uncle Tom's Cabin, Thursday evening of last week.

District Governor Clive M. Saiz presided at the meeting. It was well attended by members of the various clubs located in Palo Alto, Redwood City and San Bruno.

Rowe and Berlin discussed the progress that The Exchange is making in California, calling attention to the fact that there are now over fifty clubs in the state with a membership of approximately 1500. They announced that the state convention will be held in San Diego, May 12, 13 and 14.

AVOID EMPTY TANK

Added to the inconvenience of running out of gasoline are other reasons why it is not good to let the tank run dry or even low.

Line and other foreign matter accumulates in the gas tank and when the fuel supply gets low these substances may be drawn into the fuel line, seriously affecting motor performance. Often it takes several days to get a fuel line thoroughly clean after the tank has been allowed to run dry.

EVENT CLOSES COMMITTEE FOR SOCIAL ACTIVITY JEFFERSON HIGH

Next week Thursday, will take place, at the White House, the Army and Navy reception, the last of a series of social affairs dated on President and Mrs. Roosevelt's calendar.

Strained relations between President Roosevelt and the Supreme Court has been forgotten in White House social affairs this winter.

Observing the first rule of capital society, "Don't start a controversy," President and Mrs. Roosevelt included on their social program the usual dinner and reception in honor of members of the Supreme Court.

The White House formal entertainment calendar extended from December 14, the date of the Cabinet dinner, to February 17, when the last large reception will be held.

Publication of the White House social program is always a signal for Washington hostesses to begin planning their own formal parties for no one can expect to get an Ambassador as guest on the evening of the diplomatic dinner at the White House or a high-ranking Army officer on the night of the Army and Navy reception.

An invitation to the White House, especially to a dinner, has long been considered tantamount to a command, though Mrs. Roosevelt has made it clear that she wants no one to feel compelled to accept while she is hostess.

The scheduled formal affairs are the only ones the President himself is compelled to attend, but his wife usually crowds in additional teas, luncheons and smaller dinners for various groups.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Arrested for a traffic violation, a Nebraska driver laughed at the policeman and later insulted the judge, who gave him 90 days. Then the culprit laughed some more and said: "I'm driving for the warden of the penitentiary and I'm in for life."

The names of the members of the Jefferson Union High School sergeant at arms committee for the spring semester were recently announced by Sergeant at Arms Kevin Epidendio and approved by the executive board.

This committee is one of the most important factors in the student government, for their work partially determines the conduct of the school.

The committee selected to aid the sergeant at arms consists of fourteen students. It differs slightly from past years, inasmuch as the names of two girls appear on the list. These girls are Doretta Wilson and Lena Gamba. The balance of the committee members, as approved, consists of the following: George Schenone, Ray Kennedy, Robert Savely, Harry Grantham, George Balletto, Frank Remington, Tony Ciarlo, Ed Colombini, Harvey Smith, Thomas Stanghellini, Robert Christen and Chester Flansburg.

The Bayshore Voters' League celebrated the burning of the mortgage on its Hall last week with fitting ceremonies. A fine Choppino dinner was prepared by the men of the League and 200 people were served and served again and again, it was so good. The hall was beautifully decorated in white and green by the ladies. Flowers for the occasion were sent by the Geneva Nurseries and Mr. Restani. Ferns were loaned through the kindness of the Schwerin Nurseries. Guests of honor included Supervisor Alvin Hatch of San Mateo, supervisor Ratto of San Francisco, Judge Wade H. There's an old saying, "Give a man enough rope and he'll hang himself." I have another one, "Let some people talk enough and they'll talk themselves out of something or into something unexpected."

Another meeting will be held in the City Hall Wednesday of next week in regard to the widening of Geneva avenue. The council will hold a conference with officials from both San Francisco and San Mateo counties who are interested in this vital problem. City Engineer R. Klassen is prepared to give a report of his survey in the matter. This is a matter that should interest every property owner and holder in Bayshore.

Hope for an aerial rescue of the Soviet scientists adrift on an ice floe at the North Pole was dimmed recently when the Russian dirigible V-6 crashed into an Arctic mountain. The huge flying machine was preparing to effect a rescue when tragedy overtook it. A recent Arctic storm cracked up the ice and part of the scientific equipment was lost. Photo shows the party, left to right, E. Fyodorov, E. Krenkel, P. Shirkov and I. Papanin, chief of the group.

LINCOLN SOUGHT JUSTICE FOR ALL

One of the most celebrated of American State Papers is the Emancipation Proclamation, issued on September 22, 1862, and now over 75 years of age. A few months ago this historical document was removed from the musty files of the State Department to the vaults of the Archives Building.

It is related that after President Lincoln had drafted the original form of this statute he was advised by Secretary of State Seward to put it aside until the Union had won an important victory. This the president did. Then finally came the battle of Antietam. The time to act had come.

The night before the signing of the proclamation, Lincoln did not retire. Back and forth in his study he paced, pausing now and then to read a few favorite verses from the Bible. Often he gazed earnestly at the sky as if seeking inspiration from on high.

Mrs. Lincoln was opposed to the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation. The following morning she went to the chief executive's office and in her quick, brisk manner inquired what he intended doing about it. The light of heaven seemed to illumine the good man's face, for the moment, removing its lines of care, and again looking Above for guidance he replied, "I am a man under orders and cannot do otherwise." That day Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation.

Tomorrow is the birthday of this patriot who sought liberty for all mankind.

BRISBANE

A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE!

BRISBANE GENERALITIES

We noticed Mrs. Pearl Harper and son, Raymond, in town the other day, working on their house. Glad to see you around and wish you would stay a little longer.

Mrs. Hazel Hall has sold the restaurant across the Bayshore Highway to Lucky Lukde, formerly of South San Francisco. We understand Lucky was located in South San Francisco on the Bayshore Highway for about four years. We hope he will be with us at least that long.

We hear tell that the Federal Housing Administration has granted a new loan which can be adapted to the needs here in Brisbane. My! Oh! My! Watch the scramble.

We all can appreciate the work done by our good friend Mr. Deal during this last session with Jupiter Pluvius. The way in which Mr. Deal kept the sewers opened saved us from wading knee deep in water as occurred in other parts of the bay region.

Our active Fire Department, besides keeping the fire situation well in hand, acts as police, and ambulance. Their first aid work has been of benefit to our community on several occasions.

As a further move to help our town the Firemen sponsor our active Boy Scout Troop No. 134. The Scouts had an election the other evening with the following results: Junior assistant scoutmaster, Ken. Holladay (active); junior assistant scoutmaster, Harvey Smith (inactive); senior patrol leader, Lee Bogart; patrol leader, Earl Gagner; assistant patrol leader, Jack Finnigan; scribe, Harold Arthurs. Scoutmaster, of course, is Harry Johnson.

We are told that Raymond Hanson, San Francisco Division Scoutmaster, is leaving for Los Angeles to become district superintendent. There is a big rally being held as a farewell party.

By the way boys, Mr. Lothrop attends each Scout meeting in order to teach the boys first aid. Any of you desiring to join turn in your registration at any Friday meeting at the school house.

If any of you hear any strange noises about our hills you can rest assured that it is the new band just organized. Lee Bogart is leader; Ben Fannuchi, violin; Harold Arthur, guitar; Earl Gagner, accordion; Bert Luers, drums; Johnny Miller, bazooka. Good luck boys, and remember, I always like the tune "Far, Far Away."

On February 12 the boys headed for the San Mateo High School gymnasium to join a Scout rally where all the Scouts pledged themselves anew to the Scout movement. February 6 marked the twenty-eighth year of scouting.

There is a rumor hereabouts of a new playground for the youngsters. May those responsible be given the unanimous vote of thanks from the entire town. It will be of benefit to all to have a place for the children to play where there will be no fear from passing autos.

Our enterprising young friend, Bob Burns, has a bone to pick with the weather man. For a little better than a month we had such a swell break with plenty of sun causing our friend Bob to consider this an ideal spot for an ice cream parlor.

POSTMISTRESS IS CENTER OF L. A. EXTORT PLOT

Mrs. Mary D. Briggs

Mrs. Mary D. Briggs, Los Angeles postmistress, who was recently the prey of an unusual extortionist. Before Mrs. Briggs received a letter demanding $10,000 on pain of death, the author of the letter, James B. Winthrop, surrendered to police. Winthrop confessed he had written the letter and feared speedy apprehension. When Mrs. Briggs informed the police Winthrop was in jail.

As soon as the parlor was put in just below our genial medico's office it started to rain and has continued ever since.

After putting an ear to the ground we heard of a baseball team being organized. This was several weeks ago. What happened boys? As we heard, it was to be composed of boys from 14 to 19 years of age. There is ample room for such a team so come on boys, keep it up.

Our good friend Mrs. Curtner has been in the hospital for the past few days. We hope she can soon rejoice us.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ross's young son just celebrated his third birthday. Hope you have a good many more, young man.

We walked past Mrs. Myrtle Ferguson's, last Tuesday evening, and saw Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Croft, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Fogarty, Mrs. Stacy, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Donaldson, and our guest, Mrs. Makinson, from Oakland. All had an enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wertz entertained at a house warming party which was also a double event, being Mrs. Wertz's birthday. Among the guests were Mr. V. Caruso, his son and daughter Albert and Yvonne, Mr. and Mrs. Potter and son Bert, and Mr. K. Stirewalt, all of San Francisco. A buffet supper was served.

COMMUNITY CHURCH NEWS BY WINDSTORM ON PENINSULA

Tomorrow in all of our services we start our Roll Call day with special emphasis of every member of every family with their many friends to answer the Roll Call on this day. The Friendly Calling Committee of the Church have been out for several days placing Roll Call cards in the homes of Brisbane. Be sure to turn in your card in some service today.

Morning Church School at 10:00 a.m. Morning worship at 11 a.m. at the Fire House. Rev. Merlin C. Donaldson's subject is "Who Flies a Kite." The evening Fireside Hour is held at the parsonage at 300 Klamath street and is in the form of an informal hour of song and discussion.

The Brisbane Community Church aims to lead men, women and children to know, love and serve God, to accept Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior and have them to unite with the Church, which is the indispensable organization to propagate the teaching of Jesus Christ. If you are without a Church Home and are living in this community we wish to welcome you to join in our fellowship.

This Sunday we are laying special emphasis on better church school and we hope to make our services meet the spiritual needs of our community.

The work on the church lots has been held up, due to our weather conditions, but work is again starting and the lots should be sufficiently level by the end of this week. We will start digging the foundations and going ahead with the construction as rapidly as possible.

The business directory and recipe book has been distributed to every home in Brisbane. The money received from the advertising has all been turned into the building fund for the Church. The printing of the directory was done by the Brisbane Sun and their co-operation has made it possible. We are asking that you patronize these merchants as they are the one who are helping you to have a Church building here in Brisbane.

The Church had a well attended Pot Luck Dinner in the basement of the parsonage, last Thursday evening, with Dr. W. Earle Smith, executive secretary of the Bay Cities Union, as the guest of honor. Last Tuesday night the Women's Society held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Ferguson, 304 Klamath street and enjoyed a program led by Mrs. Makinson, who has recently returned from a trip around the world. The next meeting of the women is to be held in the basement of the parsonage, February 15, to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the Women's Home Mission Society.

Don't forget the Bake Sale to be held at Phil's Grocery, February 19, proceeds of which will be used to purchase supplies in the Church school.

Because he likes "to see the fire engines run," Gervase Blake, 14-year-old Chicago boy, admitted setting nine fires on Chicago's North Side residential section.

stationed at the City Hall during the storm to render instant relief if needed. A large electric sign at Westlake and Mission blew down, causing considerable alarm in that immediate vicinity.

Four or five large trees, that protected the athletic field back of the Jefferson Union High School, toppled over.

About 10:30 in the evening a sudden gust peeled off the roof of the L. Pezzola home, 156 Miriam street, and the family hastened to procure canvas covers from neighbors to protect their furniture from the beating rain.

Consternation reigned among the cakes and pies in the Relish Bakery, when one of the plate glass windows blew in with a crash sending pieces of broken glass all over the place.

Not only will Wednesday, February 9, go down in local history as a red letter day, but for the whole Peninsula, as well, for its entire territory seemed to be the chosen center for the storm's fury.

Officers Installed

At an impressive installation the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. L. Vannucci; vice president, Mrs. J. McCarthy; secretary, Miss I. Pedroni; treasurer, Mrs. E. Johnson. The tables were beautifully decorated in green and white with candles and flowers matching.

A program followed the installation and the social chairman, Mrs. R. Sanders, deserves much credit for her hard work.

The S. W. N. Philanthropic Society meets every 2nd and 4th Wednesday nights.

LAST OF BROTHERS FREE

At Shelleyville, Ky., this week, the state dismissed murder charges against Dr. E. S. Garr, veterinarian, accused of the slaying of Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt.

He was the last of three brothers to win freedom in connection with General Denhardt's death.

Back Seat Driver Finally Gets His!

At Olympia, Washington, recently, Ivan Jones, who was a passenger in his own car, riding in the back seat, was fined $50 for drunken driving because the driver was drunk.

The state law is that the owner is responsible for his auto, and for whoever is driving it.

EVANGELIST MENACED

Saying his conscience bothered him, James E. Hart, of Los Angeles, a crippled one-time worshiper at Aimee Semple McPherson's Angelus Temple, confessed that he wrote the evangelist a $10,000 extortion note.

Mrs. McPherson scarcely had time to begin worrying about the note which threatened "quick death," when she heard of the confession.

Author Bird of Victoria, Can., lost a wallet and nine days later reported to police it had been found by his dog. The dog walked into his master's home with the wallet in his mouth.

LEGION BODIES TO PUT ON SHOW

The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary of the Twenty-sixth District are holding a "Jubiliesta" at the Bell Monti Country Club tomorrow, Saturday, night. This is to be a gala and festive occasion. There will be dancing on the main floor, various card games on the mezzanine floor and a 49'er Camp in the club rooms. Everyone is putting forth all efforts to make this a grand success, as the proceeds are to go toward sending the uniformed bodies in the district to the national convention in Los Angeles this coming fall. All who attend are assured a pleasant and entertaining evening.

The next regular meeting of the Daly City Unit will be held Wednesday evening of next week. This will be a Valentine Party. Mrs. Mary Crane, district Americanism chairman, will speak on the "Ideals of Americanism."

On Saturday evening, February 26, the Unit will hold a spaghetti dinner. A social evening is being planned for that affair.

On Tuesday evening of this week a group of members motored to Menlo Park and assisted in the initiation of a class of candidates. On Wednesday evening they assisted in Redwood City.

MORMON CHURCH

Conference will be held, this Saturday and Sunday, in the San Francisco Ward Chapel on Hayes street for the Latter Day Saints Church. The members from Brisbane are urged to attend.
